

A Reason To Smile

What do you do when you reach the point where there are no answers? What do you do when life takes the type of turns that make it almost unbearable to wake up each day? You live... and find reasons to strive for a better day. Despite many tragedies in her life, Dawn has stayed focused in an environment of negativity. She's a student at Cal State San Bernardino, her brother has his own business that she helps him with, and her life finally has some true direction. That is, until it's all turned upside down by a tragic crime. Darrell spent his whole life in the streets and is respected by all his peers that he still lives amongst. He finally reaches a point where enough is enough and he knows that he's the only hope for the daughter he must raise. The problem is that the world around him seems not willing to accept him for who he now wants to become.
